Telephone Company Sends Notice of Moving by Mistake

It's all a mistake, telephone bill payers, you don't go to the new building this time.

Through error, notices were placed in the May bills of the General Telephone Co. of Illinois, telling Harrisburg customers that the business office has been moved to the new building at 24 West Church street.

These notices, Millard H. Lynch, district manager, stated, should have been placed in the June bills, and they were placed in the May bills through mistake. People should pay their May bills in the offices in the Harrisburg National bank building, he stated.

The company will move June 10, Lynch stated.

E. J. Thompson Seriously Hurt In Fall from Tree

E. J. Thompson, vocational agriculture instructor at Harrisburg Township high school, was injured seriously in a fall from a tree yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Thompson is in Lightner hospital suffering a fractured vertebra and a broken ankle. His back will be put in a cast after he recovers some from the shock of the fall, it was reported.

Mrs. Thompson said her husband fell 40 feet while demonstrating to part of a class in agriculture how to cut down a dead tree. While he was up in the tree sawing and some boys were pulling the limb with a rope, she said, the limb broke, pinning his foot against the limb on which he was standing. The limb on which he was standing also came away and he fell to the ground.

Measure Passes, 36-8

Senate Approves State Lien on Estates of Persons on Relief

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Senate today passed, 36-8, a bill to give the state a lien claim on the estates of persons who receive relief.

The House, meanwhile, defeated a Democratic attempt to add 26 million dollars to Gov. William G. Stratton's Welfare Department budget for mental institutions.

Under the lien law proposal, which now goes to the House, a public relief recipient would have to sign over his personal assets, such as savings accounts, to the relief agency distributing the relief.

On his death, the agency—city, county or state—would get back from the estate the money it paid in relief.

The relief agencies would share the money according to their contribution to the relief program.

House Passes Two Bills Extending Time to Vote

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Illinois House is sure it wants to give voters more time to cast their ballots, but it couldn't make up its mind Monday how much longer.

First the House passed a bill to extend the closing time for polls in Illinois from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. This bill passed by one vote.

Then came another bill to extend the polls closing hour from the present 5 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Rep. Jeanne Hurley (D-Wilmette) said that if the 6 p. m. bill was a good measure and would enable more persons to vote, the 7 p. m. bill "is that much better."

So the House passed that one, too, by a 7-vote margin. The Senate will have to make up its mind between the two bills.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

GEORGE E. FROMAN of Dorris Heights went away to World War I 39 years ago today.

Twenty-five years later to the day his son, Jimmy D. Froman, went off to World War II.

Yesterday Mr. Froman came into The Daily Register office, bringing with him the list of the group of 25 that left for the service with him.

"I know lots of the men are now dead, but I would like to hear from any still alive who might read this in your paper," he said. "There are three of them I know—Harry Hart of Harrisburg, Morris D. Gray of Eldorado and James Arthur Moore of Harrisburg—who are alive."

"Harry Hart," he continued, "is a brother of George Hart, the first from here killed in World War I and the person after whom the George Hart post of The American Legion in Harrisburg was named."

The list and the addresses at the time they went to service:

Floyd Tison, Mitchellville; Robert Bruce Wade, Eldorado; William H. Hart, Harrisburg; Grover F. Lilley, Eldorado; Jess F. Stunson, Harrisburg; Henry Harris, West Terre Haute, Ind.; John Hopkins, Eldorado;

Farmers of this area are becoming concerned about the continued rains, which have prevented planting of crops, especially corn.

L. B. Kimmel, Saline county farm adviser, states that the situation is not yet critical, but could become so.

With 120-day corn the recommended type for this area, it should be in the ground within the next three weeks in order to insure against maturing before late October frosts.

Conversion to beans, a shorter season crop, is possible, but most farmers have already purchased their corn seed. Also, due to the failure to plant corn upstate because of wet season similar to that in this area, and the necessity of converting to bean acreage, there is a possibility of an oversupply of beans and consequent price difficulty.

Except in areas where excessive water has drowned hay and wheat crops, the season has been favorable for pastures and for winter growing grains.

House Cuts $2.5 Billion From Eisenhower Request For New Defense Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee cut a whopping $2,586,775,000 of President Eisenhower's request for new defense funds today and called for a general belt tightening in the military.

But committee members conceded that half the cut represented bookkeeping or paper savings. They said it is questionable whether any big part of the slash will show up in enforced spending cuts in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee said the "nature and extent" of the military threat against the United States and its Allies "appears in certain respects to have somewhat abated." And it said excessive spending for defense itself can impair security.

The committee therefore recommended to the House a bill carrying $33,541,225,000 in new appropriations to finance the Army, Navy and Air Force in the 12 months starting July 1. The President had asked for $36,128,000,000.

Won't Hurt Security
Taken at face value, the cut amounted to 7 per cent of the President's request. The reduction brought claimed savings by the House or its Appropriations Committee so far this year to more than four billion dollars, and was certain to bring renewed demands for a tax cut.

However, committee sources pointed out that appropriations cuts—even wholly authentic ones—don't necessarily mean much when it comes to reducing the President's spending, since he goes into each new year with a fat bankroll of funds left over from previous years.

The committee, in its report, assured the House that the curbs it proposed would not "in the slightest" jeopardize either planned increases in military striking power nor the national security in general.

Current military manpower of about 2,800,000 troops would not be reduced. The active fleet would continue at about 983 ships. The Air Force would dip to 128 wings (from 137) as budgeted by the President.

Martial Law Declared; Hunt For More Bodies

Estimate 500 Homes Destroyed In Two Subdivisions

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP) — A savage tornado, the worst of the year so far, roared out of Kansas and into two suburban Kansas City subdivisions Monday night, spreading death and destruction.

The twister left at least 35 dead many of them still unidentified to day, and 230 injured.

Martial law was declared and soldiers patrolled the ravaged areas, looking for more bodies. Police said that with the great amount of destruction, there could be "many more" bodies still in the wreckage.

The tornado cut a 75-mile swath across Kansas, killing six in that state, before it hopped over to the state line and boiled into Hickman Mills and Ruskin Heights, two adjoining subdivisions just south and east of Kansas City. The death toll in those areas was 28. Another man died at Martin City, a small town south and west of Kansas City on the Kansas border.

Heavy equipment moved in today to clear the wreckage of an

Sister of Mrs. J. O. Wells Hurt By Kansas Tornado

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells of Harrisburg today received word that Mrs. Wells' sister, Florence, was injured and is in a hospital as a result of the tornado that struck Kansas City last night.

She is Mrs. M. F. Allison, who with her husband reside in Hickman Mills, suburb of Kansas City hard-hit by the twister. It is believed that the two were in their automobile when the tornado hit. Their home was not damaged.

Destroyed, however, was the home of Frank Allison and family. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells had received only meagre information, due to poor communications as a result of the storm. They do not know the extent of the injuries to Mrs. Allison; neither do they know to which hospital she was taken.

almost new shopping center, high school and church that were demolished at Ruskin Heights. In the meantime, the Weather Bureau issued new warnings of possible tornadoes for extreme south-east Missouri and northeastern Arkansas.

500 Homes Destroyed
The tornado was by far the worst of many that have plagued the Midwest and Southwest this year. A tornado that ripped Dallas, Tex., on April 2 killed 10 and caused considerable less property damage. Another tornado killed 19 persons last Wednesday at Silverton, Tex.

United Press photographer Jerry McNeill of Dallas, who witnessed the tornado there and flew here Monday night to photograph the one here, said the Dallas tornado "was merely a baby compared to this."

Police and Red Cross officials estimated 500 homes destroyed. Families were separated and efforts were being made to set up an emergency clearance headquarters.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Behold the Lord thy God has set the land before thee; go up and possess it. — Deut. 1:2.

Very few of any of us realize the full exploitation of our possibilities. God has had to use many humble men because gifted men did not use their gifts.

Massive Dream

It is just about a year since the new 33-billion-dollar federal interstate highway program became law. And in that span its administrators have encountered such a variety of obstacles that already they are saying the program will take 15 instead of the originally indicated 13 years.

The problems range from rising costs to insufficient planning at various levels to inadequate engineering and other technical manpower. A great master plan for highways or anything else cannot simply be "imposed" on a nation of three million square miles.

Periodic progress reports on the program deserve full fanfare. For the country should understand exactly how much is being accomplished under this most ambitious highway project of all times, and should understand, too, what is involved in transferring a massive dream from paper to concrete, steel and asphalt.

Coin Box Bills Signed by Stratton

SPRINGFIELD — Legislation aimed at coin box artists and slug operators was signed into law today.

Gov. William G. Stratton signed two bills sent to him by the Legislature which would permit the courts to levy 90-day jail sentences and fines of up to $300 for persons who insert slugs into telephone boxes, coin operated turnstiles or transit fare boxes.

The same sentences could be meted out to persons who poke objects into coin boxes trying to get the coins out.

Record Indicates President Sticks to Campaign Pledges

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — That letter President Eisenhower got from W. H. Doerflinger of Detroit, head of General Motors steering gear division, is worth a second look.

"I will no longer support you, nor will I support the Republican party," Doerflinger wrote Ike. The reasons given were: "Your (Ike's) unsound monetary policies... your New Deal-inspired international WPA... your amazing repudiation of your campaign-stated beliefs in sound, business-like government and your present disturbing swing to concepts of the far left."

Many people seem to be saying or thinking similar thoughts these days. But as a check go back and look at the record of what Ike actually said during the 1956 presidential campaign.

YOU WILL READ page after page of campaign speeches and find no mention of ending the foreign aid program, cutting down on government expenses or reducing taxes. It isn't there.

Instead, you will find things like these:

Just before the GOP nominating convention in San Francisco, the President pleaded with Congress repeatedly not to cut foreign aid funds. He said he would campaign on that issue.

In his first TV campaign speech, Ike put forth a new plan for worldwide reconstruction, to be paid for out of the savings from disarmament. Its monuments, said Ike, would be "roads and schools, hospitals and homes, food and health."

In short, here was a real global WPA.

In his San Francisco nomination acceptance speech, President Eisenhower harped on the theme that the GOP was "the party of the future—not of yesterday."

NO BACKWARD look here, to restore the good old days.

On the so-called New Deal reforms, Eisenhower declared: "There are still enough injustices to be erased... needless sufferings to be cured, to provide careers for all the young crusaders we can produce or find."

The President said he would push specific programs "to eliminate all kinds of discrimination against older people, substandard living conditions, low-income farmers and laborers, women, and economic underdevelopment in some areas."

Formally, launching his campaign at his Gettysburg farm Sept. 12, the President declared the Republican party demanded that the rights of every individual be assured so that he would not fall in to the depths of poverty and misery.

In a Lexington, Ky., speech Oct. 1, the President said he would continue to insist on a federal aid for education program, with matching aid given on the basis of state need.

On Oct. 9 in Pittsburgh, the President denied that the GOP was the party of big business. For proof he pointed to record anti-trust law enforcement and creation of the Small Business Administration.

Illinois Seen Future Prosperity Center

CHICAGO — A University of Illinois geographer has marked the state of Illinois and especially the Chicago area as the world's most prosperous region of the future.

Prof. John Garland, author and specialist on North American geography, based his prediction on the "peculiar combination" of advantages found in Illinois and the Chicago area. He pointed out that the district lies at the meeting place of the Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes, and the main continental east-west routes.

Chicago is already the world's greatest railroad center, and increased air travel and the completion of the St. Lawrence seaway will better its position, Garland said.

In addition, the world's most productive agriculture lands are found in Illinois and nearby states, Garland said, and he predicted that the nation's center of population will remain close to its present site near Olney, Ill.

The Uninvited Guest

DETROIT — Margaret Boone grimaced when a mud-covered dog followed a guest into her home.

But she decided a good hostess should extend hospitality to the pet of a guest, even when the dog bounced onto her sofa.

When the guest, Mrs. Mary DeMeulenaere, started to leave without the dog, Miss Boone asked:

"Aren't you forgetting your dog?"

"My dog?" replied Mrs. DeMeulenaere. "I thought it belonged to you. It was gnawing on a bone on your front porch when I got here."

Barge movement of coal on the 652-mile stretch of the Tennessee River, from Knoxville to the Ohio, totaled more than one billion tons miles in 1956, according to American Waterways Operators, Inc.

Nothing could have been less sinister than the appearance of that beautiful village. Now that he was close to it, Allan could see the tall houses, standing one behind the other in terraces up the rock, their shadows falling on the left of them as he looked. In front of the window sills were little balconies of wrought iron, many of them with window boxes; some of the windows were already shuttered, others still open to cool interiors. For all that the island and the point were rocky, beneath the boat, as Jules sculled it skillfully across, Allan could see fine white sand, with here and there a weed-draped stone. He estimated the total space between horn and horn as little more than 300 yards, and the highest point of the highest house on the rock as not more than 70 feet. It was a little jewel of a place, and he couldn't help wondering why it was so little advertised, and why he had only heard of it almost incidentally from the hotel and from Paleologue.

Jules Fernana gave one last vigorous twist to his scull, shipped it, and came to stand beside Allan as the boat lapped her way on to the one small stretch of sand which the islet seemed to boast.

"Al Merhametsiz was fond of this place!" he said softly. "I am glad that you are seeing it at last."

Two narrow streets, in deep shadow, gave access to the beach; and Allan could see that for every few yards of flat pavement there were steps climbing a little farther up the hillside. They had mounted almost to the top of the hill before Camille and Jules paused, and indicated that the court which they had reached was their destination.

Built as it was on the steep side of a hill, the flagged floor of the court open to the sky, was on two levels; they were separated by a low stone wall, and joined by a flight of shallow stone steps. The building enclosed all four sides, two stories at the higher level, three at the lower, and round the outside of each of the upper stories ran the usual balcony with wrought-iron balustrades. Two small boys, aged perhaps seven and five, ran joyfully at Camille and were caught up by him, one in either arm.

"My sons!" he said, looking at Allan proudly. "This one," giving a little chuck with his left arm so that the boy moved up a few inches in the air, "is Alexandre; and this," repeating the process with the other, "is Robert."

"I have a couple of boys, too," Allan said, not to be outdone. "They're at school."

"Patrick and Hew!"

"How do you know?" exclaimed Allan.

"You will understand a great deal in the course of the next few minutes," said Camille, delighted at his success. Jules was grinning, too.

After Camille left, Jules said: "Just let me warn you. He has gone to see if my mother is ready to see you. She is old but very sharp and wise; and she is all-powerful among the Seknougais. She can speak no English; and she refuses to speak French. Try not to anger her, remember she hates the French, and she is very proud of her lineage."

Camille came in, looking over his shoulder. "Here is my brother Georges," he said; and there entered the third Fernana.

He was unmistakably a brother of the other two; yet the beauty

Autos Reach Scrap Heap in 13 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Your new auto of today will wind up on the scrap heap in 13 years, according to the Batelle Memorial Institute here.

And those toys that Junior received at Christmas have a life expectancy of about seven years.

Batelle has completed a study into U. S. scrap iron and steel and reports that this country is in no danger of running out of the vital scrap metal. In fact the reservoir is around 543 million tons.

The life expectancy table compiled by the researchers estimates that refrigerators are junked after 12 years, washing machines and ironers in five, cooking and space-heating stoves in about 15.

Office furniture and business machines have the longest useful life, around 20 years. Domestic furniture and sporting goods usually are thrown away after 10 and seven years, respectively.

Drive Fails

SPRINGFIELD — A two man economy drive in the House never got out of low gear Monday.

Rep. Paul F. Elvard (D-Chicago), who last week tried to slash the attorney general's appropriation for the coming two years and divert the money saved to schools, tried Monday to chop about $11,000 from the $371,260 appropriation to run the governor's office for the coming two years.

Elvard's amendment was quickly tabled.

Then Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield) attempted to reduce the $57,780 appropriation for the lieutenant governor's office.

Horsley wanted to slice out $1,200 which he said was for taking and distribution of "campaign photographs" of Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman, $8,000 for a chauffeur's salary, and money for a new Cadillac, which Horsley said would be Chapman's third new car in four years.

Rep. Ora D. Dillavou (R-Champaign), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, objected that the lieutenant governor should have a "little dignity."

Horsley replied it was a "question of how much dignity."

His amendments were defeated, too.

Yankee Star Hank Bauer Booked for Night Club Brawl

NEW YORK — Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer was booked on a charge of felonious assault today for allegedly socking a fellow customer in a nightclub brawl.

Bauer was booked at a police station after a citizen's arrest by his self-styled victim, Edwin Jones. The arrest took place in the district attorney's office where both parties had conferred for one hour.

Bauer denied he hit Jones or anybody else in the Copacabana nightclub brawl which by some accounts pitted five partying Yankee ball players against a party of Manhattan bowlers.

Bauer's attorney said he was "confident that Bauer ultimately will be vindicated fully." When he is, attorney Sidney Friedman said, Jones "will be responsible to Mr. Bauer in damages for false arrest" and Bauer will "hold him to strict accountability."

Jones' attorney, Anthony Zingales, had announced previously he would not only press charges

Red Cross Lacks Reserve Funds to Aid Tornado Area

WASHINGTON — A National Red Cross spokesman said today Red Cross officials were "very concerned" by lack of reserve disaster funds to cope with the devastation caused by the Kansas City tornado.

The spokesman said the Red Cross general funds were at the "low level" of seven million dollars and disaster reserves were exhausted.

A number of national disaster workers and other Red Cross officials broke away from the National Red Cross convention early this morning to rush to the Kansas City area. Milton Taintor, manager of the Kansas City Red Cross chapter, was among them.

The spokesman said disaster workers also probably would be drawn from Atlanta and the Pacific Coast.

The Red Cross had reported previously that its funds had reached a "dangerously low level."

It said during the last two years it had spent a record 50 million dollars in coping with disaster relief.

against Bauer but also would file suit for $250,000.

Jones, a Washington Heights delicatessen owner, bore no outward signs that he had been punched in the face during the nightclub affair Thursday morning.

Cheese Discovery

Discovery of cheese is believed to have occurred more than 2,000 years B. C., when someone carried milk in a canteen made from a sheep's stomach. The milk separated into semi-solid curds and liquid whey.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Rural mail carriers do not have to deliver mail to boxes which fail to meet the specifications of postal department standards. This bit of news recently appeared in several newspapers.

The brief statement ought to encourage rural residents to see that their mail boxes are in accord with requirements. Doubtless much mail will still be delivered to boxes which are slightly below the standard.

God has indicated certain standards for salvation, yet many people who do not meet His minimum requirements feel perfectly free to criticize Him for not answering their prayers. It is amazing that people should expect to enjoy God's mercy when they do not come to God in humility and with repentant souls.

We must seek the kingdom of God before we can expect to receive God's blessing.

Presbyterian Assembly Takes Steps for Merger

OMAHA — The 169th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America has taken the first step toward a merger with the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

The general assembly voted unanimously Monday in favor of the merger with the smaller North American church which has 250,000 members in the United States and 80,000 abroad. Membership in the combined church will total about three million.

The vote on the merger came after Dr. Robert W. Gibson, president of Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., and moderator of the smaller church, reported his group favored the merger.

starting July 1 instead of the $1,800,000,000 forecast in the President's January budget message.

They predicted that federal revenues for the year, starting July 1, will be 700 million dollars more than anticipated in the Eisenhower budget. But they said federal spending, despite congressional efforts to cut the budget, will total $1,200,000,000 more than the President estimated.

These forecasts were in a report by the staff of the House-Senate Committee on Internal Revenue. The committee staff annually reviews the administration's income-outgo estimates for the coming fiscal year and presents estimates of its own.

Reunion and Homecoming Held By Bankston School Class of 1892

I wandered to the village Tom,
And sat beneath the tree;
Upon the school house playing ground

That sheltered you and me,
But few were left to greet me Tom,
And none were left to know
That played with us upon the green.

Some forty years ago

Thus mused the poet of his pioneer school days. Imagine the contrast when a group of former school mates, not after 40 years, but after 65 years have gone by, wanders back to the old district school of their childhood days.

The greetings were joyful and sincere but the "knowing" in some instances was very difficult, and quite a bit of guessing occurred before "who is who?" was determined. This was particularly true in regard to Joe Goolsby of Hardin county, who had not been back to the community in 65 years, and Elmer Strobel of Missouri, whom many had not seen in more than 50 years.

Communications were received from some who could not be present but expressed their interest and longing to be there. Among them were Lora Wilkins Higgason of Los Angeles, Calif.; Ollie C. Stevens, Lascassas, Tenn.; B. V. (Toad) Scott, Madisonville, Ky.; and Bartley Trout of Carrier Mills, who has been ill.

Among those coming from a distance were Rose Snyder Clark and daughter, Mary Summers, and husband of Granite City, Ill.; Wilson Gollhofer of Alton and L. G. Hartley of Brownfield.

The forenoon was spent in greetings and renewing of friendships established more than a half a century ago.

The expected picnic lunch turned out to be a real feast of good food—bountiful, delicious, and reminiscent of the big last day of school dinners of pioneer days.

J. B. Moore, ex-teacher of Bankston, who is in his 80th year, was master of ceremonies and local historian. He recalled early teachers and families of the school. Among the early families of the district were the names of Bicklers, Pankey, Pops, Ozment, Smothers, Wilkins, Trout, Mallady, York, Winkelman, Riegel, Empson, Abney, Boatright, Goolsby, Cowser, Gollhofer, Stevens, Patterson, Strobel, Chapman, Moore, Owen, Scott, Hankins, Hamilton, Meadows, Bridges, Medlin, Schwartz, Sullivan, Evans, and others.

The enrollment in school ran into the 70's and the number of classes per day into the 30's. Some task for one teacher, but some of the older pupils assisted the teacher in hearing some classes recite their lessons. For a number of years Bankston school had an outstanding literary society in which the pupils and parents took an active part in music, reciting, debating, and editing a weekly paper.

The school and local church co-operated closely to give the young people the best mental and spiritual opportunities to be had. Eighteen of those attending this reunion stated they were converted in Bankston church. Several still hold membership there.

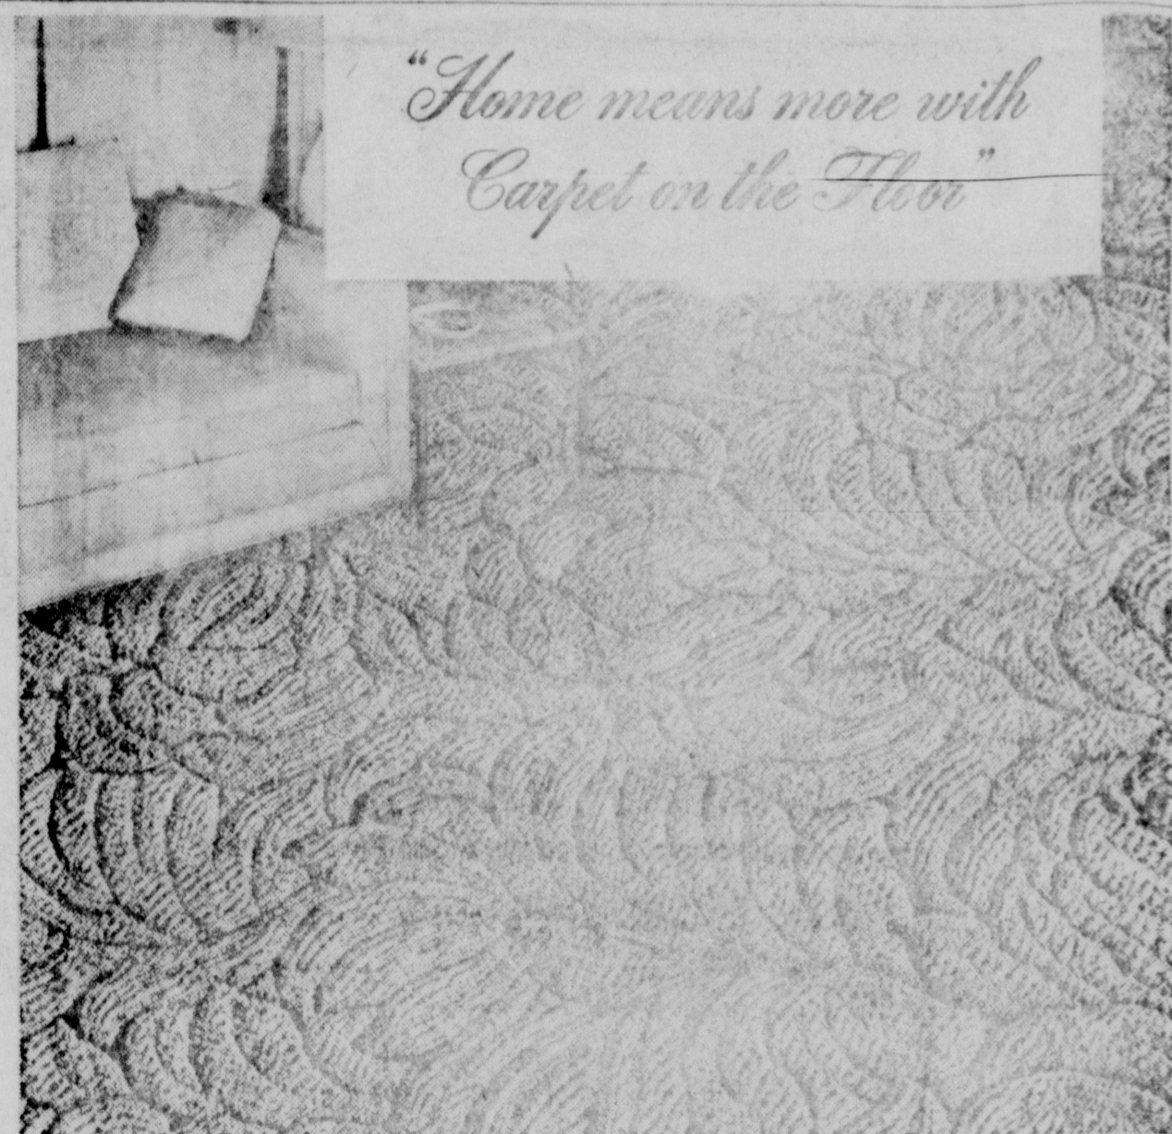

Among the teachers of Bankston district were the names of Blackman, Ozment, Empson, Boatright, Medlin, Horn, Ferrel, Reynolds, Pankey, Moore, Temple, Plumlee, Snyder, Owen, Isham, Parks, Gates, Hartley, Dillon, Johns, Harper, Miller, Baker, and others. Horace R. Boatright taught more terms in the district than any other teacher.

Raymond Gardner, present county superintendent of schools, gave an interesting talk and the following list of county superintendents, beginning with V. Rathbone in 1861 followed by F. F. Johnson, B. L. Hall, William S. Blackman, George B. Parson, James E. Jobe, Louis E. York, R. E. Rhine, B. D. Gates, A. A. Moore, W. B. Westbrook, Kenneth Davis, Dale Wilson and Mr. Gardner. Three of these superintendents were natives or residents of Bankston district, Blackman, Jobe, and Moore, and served as superintendent for a total of 28 years. Moore was the only Saline county superintendent to serve three full terms.

Interesting talks were given by a number of those in attendance and the program was interspersed with several patriotic and sacred songs directed by A. A. Moore, ending with "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The Bureau of Public Roads estimates there will be 81 million motor vehicles on the highways by 1965, or 16 million more than are on the highways today.

SIU Plans Ohio River Study

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A survey of the Ohio River from Evansville, Ind., to Cairo, Ill., will be included in a comprehensive two-year study of the Mississippi River Basin by Southern Illinois University faculty researchers.

Presenting the research plan to the board of trustees, University officials said there did not appear to be sufficient awareness of the potential economic connection between Southern Illinois and the major waterways bordering it.

"The proposed 'Pilot Study' would serve as a core and basis for increasing public knowledge of our water resources and should encourage enlightened public action," it was stated.

The research program also would include a reconnaissance study of the Mississippi from its source to its mouth, and detailed studies of the river from St. Louis to Memphis. Faculty seminars and interstate forums also would be conducted.

Central figure in the program will be Dr. Charles C. Colby, noted geographer and formerly land consultant to the Tennessee Valley Authority. He was recently a consultant on a study of the Kansas River area and authored a "Pilot Study of Southern Illinois" after a previous stay at SIU.

"Public attention has been focused on the relationship between waterways and riparian lands in recent years due to increased problems of water control and use of water in industrial processes," University officials said. "In future years, the University should be in a position to offer educational leadership and orientation to a public which might become confused by conflicting proposed programs."

The river basin study also will provide a stimulus to faculty investigations of resource utilization, it was said.

Dodgers Wallop Cardinals, 10-4, for Two In Row; Invade Cincinnati Tonight

By United Press

Those "nine old men"—the fellows who won it last year—are still in the National League pennant race.

That's the Brooklyn Dodgers' message today to the experts who were beginning to view the 1957 race as primarily a two-team struggle between the Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs. First the Braves reeled off 12 victories in their first 14 games and then the Redlegs mounted their 12-game winning streak.

All the while the Dodgers had failed to put together more than three victories in succession and there were whispers in N. L. dugouts that the old champs had "had it."

So tonight they invade Cincinnati riding the crest of a four-game winning streak—their longest of the season—and fresh from two smashing victories over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Dodgers walloped the Cardinals, 10-4, Monday night to sweep the two-game series they opened with Sunday's 10-3 rout.

Dodgers Move Up
As a result, the Dodgers moved to within only a half-game of the second-place Braves and trail the front-running Redlegs by two and one-half.

Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Sandy Amoros walloped homers in an 11-hit Dodger attack that also included doubles by Gil Hodges, Al Walker, Jim Gilliam and Furillo. Every member of the Brooklyn lineup hit safely except Don Zimmer and pitchers Don Drysdale and Clem Labine.

Drysdale went the first seven innings to win his third game without a loss. Labine, making his 13th relief appearance in 27 games, rushed in from the bullpen when the Cardinals rallied for two runs in the eighth and closed it out.

A couple of old-fashioned pitching duels marked the only two other games played in the majors Monday, the Washington Senators beating the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, and the Baltimore Orioles scoring a 2-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Ramos Wins Third

Pedro Ramos, the 22-year-old right hander from Pinar, Cuba, out-pitched Frank Lary, a 21-game winner last season, as the Senators snapped their five-game losing streak and the Tigers' four-game winning skein. Ed Fitzgerald beat out an infield hit with the bases filled in the last of the ninth to drive in the winning run after the two right handers hurled shutout ball from the second inning. The win was Ramos' third and the loss made Lary's record 2-5.

Connie Johnson turned in a two-hitter and stretched the Oriole pitcher's string of scoreless innings to 20 as he handed the A's their fourth shutout in their last seven games. Gus Triandos singled home Bob Nieman with Baltimore's first run and Tito Francona singled home the second. Ned Garver suffered his third loss against two wins while Johnson won his second game compared with four defeats.

Pacific Coast Schools Back In Good Graces

SPOKANE, Wash., (UCLA), by a 5 to 4 vote, was back in the good graces of the Pacific Coast Conference today along with three other schools told to "clean up or get out."

Still to be settled at the annual spring meeting of the conference was the knotty question of aid to athletes.

The vote Monday was on a decision of the conference in August 1956 that any member on probation which failed to adapt its athletic program in accordance with conference dictates would be expelled by Aug. 1.

Probationary reports of Washington, Southern California, and California were approved by unanimous vote of the nine representatives.

Oregon, Washington State, Stanford and Idaho voted to expel UCLA, according to Dr. Glenn Seabor, press spokesman from the University of California.

He said the negative votes were based on a belief UCLA had not "really and sincerely" tried to amend its program to put itself in line with the other members.

The ultimatum to clean up grew out of an illegal payment to athletes scandal which erupted last year. Southern Cal and Washington were placed on two years probation, California was given one year and UCLA three.

Army Seizes Control in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The army seized control of the country, imposed martial law and set a dusk-to-dawn curfew today.

The military move followed Monday's decision to fire Army Chief of Staff Brig. Gen. Leon Santave, and replace him with Port au Prince Police Chief Col. Pierre Armand.

Army leaders refused to accept this decision and announced it was taking over Haiti following a 12 hour conference at the military headquarters opposite the national palace.

A proclamation was issued declaring that Santave's dismissal was illegal and that the civilian government was ended. Signed by 10 high-ranking officers, including Armand, it said all were loyal to the new military regime.

In a separate letter broadcast with the proclamation, Armand declined the proffered promotion, saying he did not want to create army disunity.

The 10 ministers of the executive council, which had been running the country until elections can be held to choose a new president, went into hiding along with some opposition politicians following the army move.
